Queen, Attendants To Be Announced At Kentuckian Dance Tomorrow

Patrick To Crown
Queen At SUB Dance

By Bill Simon

Coronation of the 1950 Kentuckian Beauty Queen will take place at a semi-formal dance sponsored by Lamp and Cross, senior men's leadership honorary, Saturday night in the SUB Bluegrass Ballroom.

The queen has been chosen from a group of seven semi-finalists who were selected for beauty and poise at a contest held in Memorial Hall on Nov. 22.

Credits Listed

The seven and their sponsors are Kathleen Carter, Delta Delta Delta; Carolyn Critchlow, Kappa Alpha Theta; Jane Hunter, Alpha Xi Delta; Kay McCabe, Independent; Pat Moore, Chi Omega; Cora Frances Saffel, Kappa Alpha Theta; and Louise Wilson, Jewell Hall.

The dance will begin at 8:30 p.m. and last until midnight with the coronation highlighting the event at 10:45 p.m. Bob Bieldt and The Blue and White Orchestra will play.

Tickets On Sale

Tickets are on sale today at the SUB. The price for couple or stag is $1.50. Table reservations are available for parties of 10.

The queen's first and second attendants will also be announced at the dance. The other four will not be ranked but will vie for third place.

Patrick Will Crown Queen

Charles Patrick, editor of the Kentuckian, will crown the queen. The queen and attendants will be escorted by members of Lamp and Cross.

Judges who selected the seven semi-finalists were Frances Mason, fashion co-ordinator for H&S Pogue Company, Cincinnati; L. P. Gorian, director of Fred Astaire Dance Studio, Cincinnati; Wanda Boyd, advertising manager of Wolf-Wile Company, Lexington, and Fred Pugazzoli, city commissioner of Lexington.

Fred Nichols, president of Lamp and Cross, will serve as master of ceremonies. Mike Mills and Ike Rouse are co-chairmen of the contest committee.

Applications Open For Press Club

Applications for membership in the Henry Watterson Press Club, upperclass honorary for journalism men, are being accepted.

Membership requirements are a 1.8 standing in journalism and a 1.5 overall.

Applications may be made to George Reynolds, treasurer of the Club, or any member, Jerry Finch, president, has stated.

Beauty And The Beast Set To Reign At Annual Kentuckian Coronation Ball

By Wilfred Lott

The Kentuckian Beauty Queen will be presented to the University at a coronation dance in the Student Union tomorrow night. But from some place in the back of the spacious, dimly lighted Bluegrass room another winner will be applauded for "slightly" different accomplishments. That is "UK's Ugliest Man of 1950."

Six new candidates entered the race for the UMOC (Ugliest Man On The Campus) honors Tuesday. A total of 20 contenders now have their photographs on display in the Student Union voting booth, Alpha Phi Omega announced.

The latest entrants and their sponsoring organizations are Bob Cox, Kernel; Dell Carson, PKT; Ralph McCracken, Triangle; Bob

Sponsored Projects

The proceeds of the contest will be used to finance service projects sponsored by the fraternity. Alpha Phi Omega has sponsored a Thanksgiving basket drive among sororities and fraternities and distributed 20 baskets of food. The fraternity has also placed pencil sharpeners at various points on the campus and distributed over 4000 multigraphed social calendars to residence units, sororities, and fraternities.

Kappa Sigma and Alpha Phi Omega sponsored the winner and runner-up respectively in last year's initial contest. Rupert Stivers was acclaimed as being the most "gruesome", and Jack Carpenter took secondary honors. The contest, which is in reality a popularity determiner, is all in fun as far as the "ugly" aspect is concerned, the service group said.

Candidates nominated are:

Arts and Sciences upperclasswoman—Linda Smith and Betty Ball.
Arts and Sciences lowerclasswoman—Dot Neal and Betty Bryant.
Education representative at large—Bob Gregory and Emma Patrick.
Engineering, lowerclass—David Brown.
Engineering, upperclass—Tom Clore.

Candidates for Agriculture and Commerce were named yesterday in a meeting too late for publication.

All the candidates were interviewed by special committees and graded by representatives from each sorority and fraternity.

Voting will take place in the usual manner, by colleges.

UK Sheep Set New Records At Chicago Livestock Show

By Bob Fain

Fifty year records were broken this week as the UK sheep flock won honors at the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago, according to Dr. L. H. Horlacher, assistant dean of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

Dean Horlacher said that this was the first time in the 50 year history of the contest that one school has taken so many first place prizes.

Wins Listed

In the contest UK placed first, third, and sixth in the single Southdown contest; first and fifth with their pen of Southdowns; first, third, and seventh in Hampshire singles; first in their pen of Hampshires; grand champion single Hampshire, and reserve grand champion with the pen of Southdowns, and grand champion single Hampshires and reserve grand champion in the Hampshire pen.

"This is the greatest thing that has ever happened to this school and Kentucky. Everyone there is talking about Kentucky," said Dean Horlacher after returning from Chicago.

Barber Praised

Dean Horlacher placed much of the honor on Harold Barber, UK shepherd. Barber, a native of England, has been in this country since 1912 and has been at UK since 1922. He has shown ten grand champions and various other prize winners since coming here.

Dean Horlacher added that Barber is generally recognized as the outstanding shepherd in the country today.

SGA Hears Appeals On Campus Parking Fines

With the approval of the President of the University, the Dean of Men has delegated to the Student Government Association, at its request, the duty of enforcing parking regulations on the campus.

SGA has employed a full-time secretary who will immediately relieve the office of the Dean of Men of all matters relating to the parking situation. The secretary will be located in room 204 of the Administration Building from 8:30 until 5:00 every week day and from 8:30 until 12:00 on Saturday. Persons desiring parking permits should also address their requests to the secretary. The committee will issue the permits.

Judicial Committee Functions
Persons who believe they have been unjustly fined may appeal to the Judicial Committee of Student Government Association. This committee, composed of two representatives from the general assembly of the Student Government Association, three representatives from the student body at large, and one faculty adviser from the student assembly, will meet at 4 p.m. on Thursday of each week to hear and decide cases brought before them. Meetings will be held in room 204

Phi Mu Alpha To Give Recital

Phi Mu Alpha, honorary music fraternity, will present a recital of chamber music in the new Guignol Theater of the Fine Arts Building Thursday at 8 p.m. by the Madrigal Singers and music department faculty.

Soloist for the evening will be Warren Lutz, graduate assistant in band, former concertmaster and clarinet soloist with the University of Illinois band and symphony orchestra.

"In hiring a full-time secretary, it is the intention of Student Government Association to delegate to her in the future such duties as will enable the organization to function more efficiently in furthering the interests of the student body," he said.

The performers who will give the faculty portion of the recital are Robert Floyd, piano; Kenneth Wright, violin; Gordon Kinney, cello; Edward Hornowski, viola; and Frank Prindl, string bass.

The recital will be open to the general public.

On the Administration Building, the Judiciary Committee will remain in session until all complaints of the week have been brought before it. Decisions will be rendered immediately.

Hopes For Fairer Treatment

"It is hoped that this arrangement by SGA for the handling of the parking situation will enable students and faculty and staff members alike to receive prompt and fair treatment in regard to fines and the issuance of permits," Walter Patrick, chairman of the judiciary committee, said.

He added that the secretary has been instructed to give her full attention to the problems which will result from the University's limited parking facilities, and she has been provided with all records pertaining to the subject.

New Fine Arts Building Houses Art, Drama, And Music;

Features Art Gallery, Guignol, And Soundproof Rooms

By Joe Lee

"The Fine Arts building may seem elegant on the outside, but it is the inside that is exciting to me," says Dr. Edward W. Rannels, head of the art department. "The building is properly planned and properly built. It is a pleasure to work in it."

Palatially modern inside, the new arts building is now a thriving part of the University. All week students have been wandering fascinated through its curvaceous interior, some attending classes, an some visiting the new locations of the music, art, and drama departments.

Sound-Proof Music Rooms

A special feature of the facilities of the Music department in the new building is the block of small, sound-proof, individual practice rooms with peep-hole doors. Inside the rooms students can practice their music entirely undisturbed.

Art Display

In conjunction with their moving into the Fine Arts building, the art department is presenting an exhibit. The exhibit, featuring the works of members of the art department, is now on display in the new building's art gallery.

The gallery with its indirect lighting and curving walls is sweeping and futuristic in design. It has movable partitions which may be used to create smaller galleries for smaller art shows. The present display is utilizing the entire gallery.

New Guignol

A large number of students and faculty members visited the new building Monday night while attending a concert by John Jacob Niles, noted Kentucky folk singer.

The concert, featuring the works of members of the art department, is now on display in the new building's art gallery.

Downstairs From The Theater There is a luxurious "Green Room," which will serve as a call room for actors.

Surrounding the Green Room are a number of convenient dressing rooms and a costume construction room.

The drama department also boasts a well-equipped stage shop.

The Fine Arts building is a three-story structure with a miriad of light, wading hallways, leading through the enchantingly decorated interior. The artistically designed, well-planned Art center is a building which effectively symbolizes the present day progress of the University.

Penalty To Be Waived For Students At Bowl

By Bob Gerham

Penalties for absences immediately after the Christmas holidays will not be enforced due to UK participation in the Orange Bowl. Vice President Chamberlain announced yesterday.

Students will be required to make up any work missed, however, according to the official notice released late yesterday morning, which follows in full:

"There have been many inquiries made as to the application of the special rule governing absence immediately after holidays to those students who will attend the Orange Bowl game in Miami, Florida.

"Classes at the University will resume on Tuesday morning, January 3, at 8 a.m., as announced in the University calendar. Each student who expects to be absent immediately after the holiday should arrange with his instructor about his absences and plan to make up his work. The student who is absent will not be excused from the work missed. However, the penalty for an absence immediately after a holiday will not be enforced this time because of the University's participation in the Orange Bowl game."

We're In Favor

The Kernel staff is not standing in the way of semi-weekly publication of the paper. In several letters to the editor, it has been suggested or stated that such a condition exists, and campus rumors are, if anything, even more positive. A statement made before the Interfraternity Council may have been the basis, to some extent, for such thinking.

A great deal could be said concerning the methods used in the present crusade for semi-weekly publication; it has been a masterpiece of manipulation. Just as much could have been done through a straight-forward drive, however, and students would know more of what the real difficulties are.

The actual reason that more frequent publication of the Kernel has not developed is the overload which would be thrown on the printing plant. The Kernel plant is under contract to print numerous bulletins and pamphlets in addition to the U-High Times, the University catalog, the schedule books for next semester, and other official University publications. The Kernel staff has had no control over these contracts.

It would seem impossible to carry out the plans advocated by SGA with the present facilities, or until the contracts mentioned are fulfilled. It is far more likely that the Kernel will be published twice a week beginning next fall than at the beginning of the next semester. The staff is, however, willing to assume the additional work and all of us sincerely wish there were more positions open at the present for students who would like to work with the Kernel.

For A Change

The Student Government Association, in taking over the duty of enforcing campus parking regulations, has left itself open to a great deal of criticism in the future.

The plan may be workable, and should be given a chance to prove itself; however its disadvantages may outweigh its advantages. Heretofore, the parking situation has been handled by the Dean of Men's office, and though there has naturally been criticism, the problem has been effectively controlled.

The judiciary committee will have a majority from one of the two parties, since it is made up of five students. There will remain room for bias which dissatisfied students likely will cite at every opportunity.

The advantages: Less work for Dean Kirwan's secretaries, a new job created for a student's wife, a departure from the toothless yearly farces such as resolutions against drinking and gambling and an administration-approved way to spend some money for a change. The measure will, at least, have some effect on the student body.

One Or The Other

Already there is talk of sending the band to the Orange Bowl. Many things must be taken into consideration before it can make the trip. Certainly some improvement over its showing at the Tennessee game is necessary before the action is taken.

Though this may seem an about-face after a previous editorial, we believe the statement is warranted and that we remain consistent. We still believe that there are essentially two kinds of marching bands. In addition we believe that a band should be either one or the other; it should not dabble with the flashy style unless it is going all out for it. The feeble attempt made by the band at the Tennessee game to imitate the "Cincinnati Trot" became ridiculous.

Our band can, we believe, be outstanding as either a football or a military organization; the Military Department can decide which, to a large extent. But if the band staff wants to employ jazz and novelties in its performances, we suggest they obtain jockey uniforms or some other Kentucky costume and do the thing right.

More Kernels

Editor, The Kernel:

We of Kappa Sigma have heard of the proposal of two weekly editions of the Kernel, effective with the spring semester?

We would like to add our voice in support of this idea; believing it to help conditions in general at the University.

Other Middlemen

Editor, The Kernel:

In the Friday, November 11, issue of the "Kernel" I read your editorial captioned THE MIDDLEMAN and I can sympathize with you much.

We here in Beaver Falls also have what we consider to be one of the best high school bands in the country and we still cannot satisfy everyone with the way they play and march. So, if I were you, I wouldn't let me worry at all.

Our band marches too fast for some and for others they are tops. Their playing is superb to most of us, but on the other hand, if in an intricate march someone misses a note the band is lousy. The consensus of opinions, however, is that our band is good as I know the Kentucky band is. At least it is so far superior to the band that the old-timers remember just prior to World War I. The band then was clad in khaki uniforms, some of which had been worn by different band members for 15 to 20 years. Also, some of the boys could pay and some could not. The main thing was to get into the band to keep from drilling.

Sincerely,
W. D. Sullivan

"Thank goodness, they don't wear ORANGE jerseys."

letter when I received it was of no value to me.

The reason for such delay was the fact that the people at the university station had simply not bothered to deliver my mail as they are required to. If I had not made a demand I seriously doubt if I ever would have received this mail. I imagine it would still be laying around that postoffice, as it was during the delay.

We feel that since this paper is the only student paper, and therefore has such a widespread influence that we, the student body should be able to get its full benefits and the best way for that would be at least two editors of this fine paper a week. After all, many other schools such as Indiana University have a DAILY edition. We therefore feel that a bi-weekly paper is not too much to ask for.

Thanking you for your kind consideration,

I remain,
Yours Very Truly,

There is no reason whatsoever for this abuse. We need not suffer it and the situation could easily be alleviated by suitable means, including if necessary firing the manager.

I ask you now to do what you can to eliminate this problem. I assure you that I personally am taking every measure to reach that result.

The faculty and students have suffered this state of things too long and it is more than proper time to end this intolerable and deplorable state.

I am not asking anything more than that the postoffice and especially its manager do its job properly. If that cannot be done, the persons responsible, and we know who they are, should be discharged immediately. The responsibility lies with the university because this is a contract station not a branch of the main station, since it is the university's responsibility it is the university's duty to take proper action. And action it must take.

Detective Brick McCullough went on a one-man search for Crawford, the Kay Sig mascot, supposedly swiped by vandals Tennesseeans. He had a big time sitting on the Vol-Commodore fray but returned home minus his fuzzy friend.

Warming to Johnny Owens!! A few of the girls are getting fed up with the one-night stands that you are becoming famous for. Let's give those cute gals more than one chance!!

Nina Liston is now going steady with Jim Steiner of Purdue. We've seen these long distance romances before.

Bill Waterson, who dropped out of school just before the holidays, got so lonesome that he just had to return to this fine stomping ground. Glad to see you back, Bill.

Mary Alice Mayer still has stars left in her eyes from last weekend. Joe Johnson was here from U. of Va.

The Friday night before we went home was tons of fun. The Phi Deltas and Phi Taus outdid themselves in formals. Congratulations to Jane Basham, new Phi Tau "Dream Girl".

The Casey Club in Henderson and the Diamond in Huntington took on that USA look over last weekend.

Andy Meats missed Louise Wilson so much that he hit the postman hard with special deliveries. This in the air that there may be a secret pinup in production.

Jane Ingels brightened Louis Hammond's life during her short visit home.

Diane Roberts had John Heinz to help her eat her big home turkey. Constant word day: Helen Seaman and Bill Pote.

The third floor of the Phi Sig house is well decorated after the jaunt to New York taken by Winter Collins, Bob DeBoer, Wes Bird, and George Ryboid.

Pinned: Al Frame and Meeve O'Toole; Elmo Liebert and Barbara Reimers; Glenn Northcutt and John Sauer.

Josh Denim, Tommy Mathis, and Moose Marcuzzi left their mark on Logan, W. Va., over the holidays—or vice-versa.

Tom "Big Al" Alexander broke down and had a date. Betty Brown was the lucky gal.

Ebbie Mathis just doesn't show enough appreciation for Doris Taylor. We know quite a few fellows who wish that cute i'l number would give them a tumble.

With basketball season just around the corner, we're betting that Ann Kirtley will return to Bob Hatchett. If you could have seen them at the volley ball game the other night you'd know just what we mean.

Rod Beck says he is trying to get back in the good with Pat Mason at U. of L.

Charlie Young and Harry Sutton are reported to be on the steady list.

Mary Ann Moseley and Fred Stromberg are getting to be a pretty steady couple. This could go to be a serious romance.

B. J. Samson and Edith Combs still don't have Phi Tau pins but maybe Pat Barnes will have better luck. She seems to be making the most progress.

Leonard Wood, Brian Daugherty, and Bob Swieterman all brought dates but didn't see much of them during the night. The stags took care of that.

Jimmy Long's ego has been greatly hurt since some of his fraternity brothers voted for him in the "Ugly Man" contest.

Biggest event of last weekend: Hubert Wright brought a tree to the Kappa Sig house for Crawford.

Ray Robinson got a huge write up in the Owensboro paper for making a 3. standing in summer school, and he only took one subject. Let us all strive toward that goal.

It's said that two Sig Eps have outsmarted Kay McCabe. By the way, she's one of the cutest gals to hit this campus. Older sister Babe is keeping at least a dozen boys going in circles too.

citement, which thrills more than half-million spectators each year.

Began In 1925

Miami's New Year's Day football classic started as a post-season contest for the University of Miami, and the first two games were held as the Palm Festival. The Orange Bowl itself began in 1935, with the idea of an annual game between outstanding Northern and Southern teams.

The first game was played before a sparse crowd of only 5,134 people. Bucknell won this inaugural struggle, defeating Miami, 26-0. Through the years, the seating capacity has been increased steadily, and last year's Georgia-Texas clash, won by Texas, 41-28, was played with some 60,000 spectators looking on. This year's Kentucky-Santa Clara game will be staged before more than 64,000, a new attendance record.

The Orange Bowl has provided some of the top post-season football thrills.

All-time tops in the spine tingling department was provided by Al Hudson, substitute University of Miami halfback, who intercepted a Holy Cross pass and ran it back 89 yards for a touchdown that enabled Miami to defeat the Crusaders, 13-6, as time ran out in the 1946 game. The game officially ended as Hudson crossed the midfield stripe on his way to the game-winning touchdown.

Pressing Hudson's run for thrill-producing honors was a 72-yard pass from Boyd Brumbaugh to Ernest Hefner in the closing moments of play, that cleared the way for Duquesne to defeat Mississippi State, 13-12, in 1937. The pass traveled 69 yards in the air to set an all-time record in major bowl competition in the country.

Greatest individual performance ever witnessed in the Bowl was staged by Georgia's Fireball Frankie Sinkwich against Texas Christian in 1942. Sinkwich passed for three touchdowns and scored one himself in plays covering 179 yards. Franklin's total ground gaining efforts, running and passing, amounted to 382 yards, another all-time record for major bowls.

One record that may be rewritten by Kentucky's Babe Parilli in this year's game is the passing record of Georgia Tech's Jim Still, who hit 10 of 13 tosses against Kansas in the 1948 game. Three of his passes went for touchdowns, and a fourth was called back because of a penalty.

Leonard Wood, Brian Daugherty, and Bob Swieterman all brought dates but didn't see much of them during the night. The stags took care of that.

Jimmy Long's ego has been greatly hurt since some of his fraternity brothers voted for him in the "Ugly Man" contest.

CONN-COX 'UNS

By Earl Conn and Bob Cox
This said around the campus that with Christmas just a few weeks off the gals hereabouts are more interested in having their past forgotten and their present re-enacted.

Now this column is usually 99 and 44 percent partly original. We point with pride to the purity of the white space between the lines. Today we have a quote to live you all a cynic's view from the far north. From Mr. Nelson Denton's daily effort in the Cincinnati Times-Star we have gleaned this bit of wisdom:

Breckinridge, McDowell and Cades. Stanley, Shultz and Clay.
Historical names in Kentucky. Great men of a bygone day.
Zaranka, Uhlinski, Teparski, Ondlak, Parikh, Novak.
Leskovar, Bezuk, Netocka. From far away spots like Petoskey—These are the names
Making history today
Of the strangers who came
To play for U.K.

Quoted exactly except for misspelling of names too tough for Mr. Denton—in Conn-Cox!

Bigamist: Man who rings twice.

Beautiful new neighbor: Little boy, I need a lot of bread from the store. Do you think you could go for me?

Junior: No, but I heard Dad say he could in a big way.

And always remember never to marry on Sunday, it isn't right to gamble on the Sabbath.

Parson to the dying editor: Cheer up, friend. You have a bright future ahead of you.

Editor: That's what's bothering me. I can see it blazing.

Then there's the stenographer who was fired for a mistake she wouldn't make.

Proud mother: Just fancy that! They've promoted our Richard for hitting the sergeant. They've made him a court martial.

Of course you've heard the one about the mountaineer who put the silencer on his shotgun because his daughter wanted a quiet wedding.

Minister: Do you say your prayers every night, Woody?

Woody: No, my Mommy says them for me.

Minister: Really? What does she say?

Woody: Thank God you're in bed.

Rubber: Don't be scared, lady, all I want is your money.

Old Maid: Oh, go away! You're just like all other men.

Slim: Who gave the bride away?

Tim: I could have but I kept my mouth shut.

Quizmaster: What pen has a life-time guarantee?
Contestant: Aleatraz.

Minister (at baptismal services): And this baby's name?

Father: John Peter Charles Robert Wilbert Huntingwellworth.

Minister (to his assistant): More water, please.

A modern parent is one who never strikes his child except in self-defense.

In the window of a Jersey City beauty parlor:

Don't whistle at a girl leaving here, she may be your grandmother.

Innocent: Was Jane in a red frock at the dance?

Been-Innocent: Some of her darling, some of her.

Girls when they went out to swim once dressed like Mother Hubbard;

Now they have a different whim: They dress more like her cup-board.

Joke of the Week: Bob Sparks of the Kernel printing plant celebrated his 20th birthday Tuesday of this week. Ask composing-room men any questions.

Have you seen or heard about:

The divorcee who returned from Reno feeling like a new man.

The guy who never misses Conn-Cox 'uns. He never reads it so he never misses it.

The joker who was plastered and wouldn't speak to his friends because they all blurred their faces when they saw him.

The genius who invented a non-alcoholic hangover, so people could swear off drinking and still feel lousy in the morning.

The employer who invented a time clock that punches employees.

The new bath soap that doesn't float, doesn't wash, doesn't perfume the body, doesn't solarize, doesn't cure anything. It just keeps you company in the tub.

The saddest of tongue or pen perhaps may be, "It might have been."

But the sweetest words we know, by heck.

Are simply these: "Enclosed find a check."

A lady bought a parrot from a pet store, only to learn that it cursed every time it said anything. She put up with it as long as she could, but finally one day she lost her patience.

"If I ever hear you curse again," she swore, "I'll wring your neck!" A few minutes later she remarked rather casually that it was a fine day. Whereupon the parrot said, "It's a helluva fine day." The lady immediately picked up the parrot by the neck and spun him around in the air until he was almost dead.

"Now then, it's a fine day today isn't it?" she shouted.

"Fine day, hell," sputtered the parrot. "Where were you when the cyclone struck?"

The touch of the nurse's hand chilled his fever instantly. You could hear the sound of the slap clear down in the hall.

NOW HEAR THIS

By T. J. Clark

During the Thanksgiving holidays the University of Kentucky radio service was absurdly quiet. Nothing outstandingly news-worthy happened. As a matter of fact, the radio studios were as dead as a novocaine-fed sloth. Staff members were caught listening to the programs, and any radio man will tell you that this is very close to heresy.

Big exposé. Now you can learn the brutal truth. I am an avid admirer of jolly, old St. Nick, and I'm an even more eager follower of Santa Claus. Naturally I listen to every one of his direct-from-the-North Pole broadcasts. Now imagine my shock and horror and bitter anguish when I discovered that the voice of the Santa heard on WKLEX was different from the voice of the same gent on WLEX. My first impulse was to rationalize that it was all an illusion of acoustics. But, no! The voices were really different, and what's more I could recognize them. The WKLEX Santa was none other than Joe Knight. WLEX was trying to palm off Elbert Barber as St. Nick. Both Joe and Elbert are WBKY men. Now I don't believe in Santa Claus.

I'm getting very little co-operation from some of the people at the studios. For instance, I told Gene Arkle that I would like to put something in this column about his Thursday night running of the dream session called "Nocturne."

The Tales of Edgar Allan Poe, continuing the series of fine productions, are presenting "Morella," a narrative of the psychological and re-incarnation. (WLAP Saturday, 6:15; WBKY Thursday, 8)

C. D. Lucas presents Jane Basham, Kappa Delta, who was named Phi Kappa Tau dream girl at the fraternity's recent fall formal.

Dance Enthusiasts To Have Recital, Lunch Discussion

The second annual Folk Dance Workshop, sponsored by the Lexington Center of the Country Dance Society of America, and a Modern Dance Workshop, sponsored by the physical education department of the University, is being held today and tomorrow in the Women's Gymnasium.

The first session of the Modern Dance Workshop will be a technique workshop in modern dance held Saturday at 10:30 a.m. followed this a luncheon and panel discussion on "What is Modern Dance" will be held at 12:15 p.m. and a discussion on "Methods and Materials for Teaching Dance" at 2:30 p.m.

Recital Given

A recital for those attending the Modern Dance Workshop will be given by three dance major students of the University at 4 and 7:30 p.m. Sunday at the Guignol Theater.

The Folk Dance Workshop will hold its first session at 8 p.m. today when teaching techniques for beginners will be emphasized. Saturday at 9 a.m. there will be a discussion of teaching techniques for country and school dancing and at 11 a.m. singing games will be taught. At 1 p.m. Country Dancing for large groups will be taught and at 3:30 p.m. a square dance will be held.

Conductors Listed

The Modern Dance Workshop will be conducted by Mrs. Revell Shaw, dance director at UK; Miss Estelle Volin, dance director at the University of Louisville; and Miss Betty Harris, of the physical education department at Eastern College.

James S. Brown is chairman of the Folk Dance Workshop and James F. Ross, Mrs. Clifford Amyx, Miss Lovaine Lewis, M. G. Karsner, Eugene Fox, Miss Carolyn Whitehaeck, and Gilbert Hardee will serve as committee chairmen.

Manufacturer Offers UK Campus Training Program

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, cigarette manufacturers, has inaugurated a practical earn-while-you-learn campus training program and has selected the University of Kentucky as one of the leading colleges and universities to participate in the project.

According to Student Marketing Institute, New York, under whose direction students will conduct various phases of this cooperative Business-Education project, three students, Arthur Lee Myles, Robert W. Howarth, and Frank W. Munro, have been selected to take part in the local campus program intended to give them practical marketing experience prior to graduation.

In addition to gaining the opportunity of a job interview with the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, student participants will gain at least eight months of faculty-supervised, practical training in market research, salesmanship, merchandising, promotion, and advertising coordination.

Students are paid during the campus training period, and those showing the greatest aptitude for marketing work are issued the Student Marketing Institute Certificate of Commendation, which has received wide acclaim as a business reference for job aspirants.

All college students will be on the receiving end of the Camel Campus Campaign, for samples of Camel cigarettes will be personally given out to individuals and will be made available to independent and Greek letter organizations and other campus groups for their social functions. Vaughn Monroe and his orchestra will also take part in the campaign.

UK Girl To Be Chosen 1949 'Miss Christmas Seal'

Miss Christmas Seal of 1949 will be chosen soon. Sponsored by the Lexington-Fayette County Tuberculosis Association, the contest to choose a beautiful, generous Miss Christmas Seal is now underway.

Sorority representatives at a recent Pallenie meeting voted to elect a candidate from each sorority to compete for the Miss Christmas Seal title.

The candidates and the sororities they represent are: Eleanor Gash, Alpha Delta Pi; Bobby Beam, Alpha Gamma Delta; Martha Gauntt, Alpha Xi Delta; Barbara Harris, Chi Omega; Helen Heltsley, Delta Delta Delta; Virginia Meyers, Delta Zeta; Nancy Brewer, Kappa Alpha Theta; Joan Graham, Kappa Delta; Anna Guthrie, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Gloria Travis, Tau Alpha Phi; and Sara Davidson, Zeta Tau Alpha.

Downtown Parade
Thursday night the candidates appeared in a downtown Christmas parade on a float sponsored by the local Tuberculosis Association. The Christmas Seal float featured a white fan-shaped center with red double-barred crosses, symbols of the organization's campaign against tuberculosis. The girls nattily attired in suits and fur coats, threw kisses (candy) to the spectators lining the streets.

Way To Vote

The accompanying ballot may be used for voting for your choice for Miss Christmas Seal of 1949. Each dollar's purchase of Christmas Seals entitles the student to one vote in students through the mail.

Purchase of the Christmas Seals is an expression of the desire of student to enter Lexington's light against tuberculosis.

The gifts which will be on sale will be supplied by the Home Economics Club member and Phi Upsilon Omicron, home economics honorary.

Lunch will be served in room 203 from 12 to 1:30 p.m.

Wildcats Score 21-6 Victory Over Miami; Get Bowl Bid

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 25.—Kentucky's hard-charging line pushed the Miami Hurricanes all over the field here tonight in the Orange Bowl Stadium and paved the way for a 21-6 victory for the Wildcats.

A crowd of 42,970—the third largest of the season here—saw the Cats outrush Miami, 274 yards to 62, while making 25 first downs to only nine for the losers.

The victory earned Kentucky an invitation to the Orange Bowl football game on Jan. 2 against Santa Clara College of California.

The 21-6 defeat for Miami was the most decisive administered to the Orange, Green & White eleven of the Sunshine State for the current season.

It was also the first time thus far that a team had scored over 14 points against the Hurricanes, who play Maryland Friday in the Magic City.

Fleier Crosses Goal For UM

Dome Fucci, UM's halfback, fumbled the high-lounging Miami kickoff and UM recovered on the Kentucky 29. Two running plays off right tackle moved it to the Ky 9 and a first down. Then the Cats' line dug in and stopped three more running plays. With 4th down and nine yards to go, Hackett flipped a pass to Fleier, a 66' end from Cincinnati, who slipped behind the Cat defense and scored easily. Watson's try for PAT was wide and Miami led 6-0, with three minutes gone.

Genito Scores

Ralph Genito, senior fullback, was the big man in UK's first score. He set up the TD early in the second quarter with a 16 yard end-run to the losers' 13 stripe. Howe moved it to the six. Genito bucked to the three, then the one and one-half stripe, then dove over left tackle for the tying points. Bob Brooks converted his 15th straight extra point and UK led 7-6. No more scoring was done in the half.

Phelps Fools Miami

With Parilli passing to Howe and Claiborne, and Leskovar doing some effective running, the Cats drove deep into Miami territory early in the third quarter. With the ball on the five, Dopey Phelps took a direct pass from center, zipped around right end to fool the white-shirted Hurricanes completely and score UK's second tally. Brooks made another perfect placement.

Netskie Makes 80-Yard Run

Midway in the fourth quarter, Miami threatened to score. But Shorty Jamerson intercepted a pass on the five and ran it back to the 10. On the first play, Leskovar fumbled and Allen recovered for UM or the 13.

Three plays later, Hackett passed from the 16 into the right flat. It was short. John Netskie, Cat end, intercepted and raced down the sidelines for 80 yards and UK's final touchdown of the night. Brooks converted again, to run his string to 17 straight.

The Big Cats turned in one of their best performances of the season. After the game, Coach Bryant stated "that this was definitely one of the best games we've played this year."

Leskovar Has 6.6 Average

Ralph Genito, who starred against Miami last November, was again one of the standouts for the Wildcats this time. He ran hard and was the No. 2 ground-gainer for UK with 58 yards. Bill "The Bull" Leskovar, the Cats' fine sophomore fullback, led with 58 yards in 14 thrusts for a 6.6 average for the tilt. Jim Howe, right halfback, was very effective with a 6.4 average per run in his eight attempts.

Dopey Phelps had a 4.1 average.

Babe Parilli connected with five out of nine passes; Miami had a nine-completed mark in 26 tosses.

Jack Brasington was the only back for Miami to dent the rough UK forward wall. He gained 42 yards in nine runs for a 4.7 average. The rest of the backs gained only 20 yards combined through the Kentucky defense.—Tom Diskin.

Intramural Sports

By Earl Conn

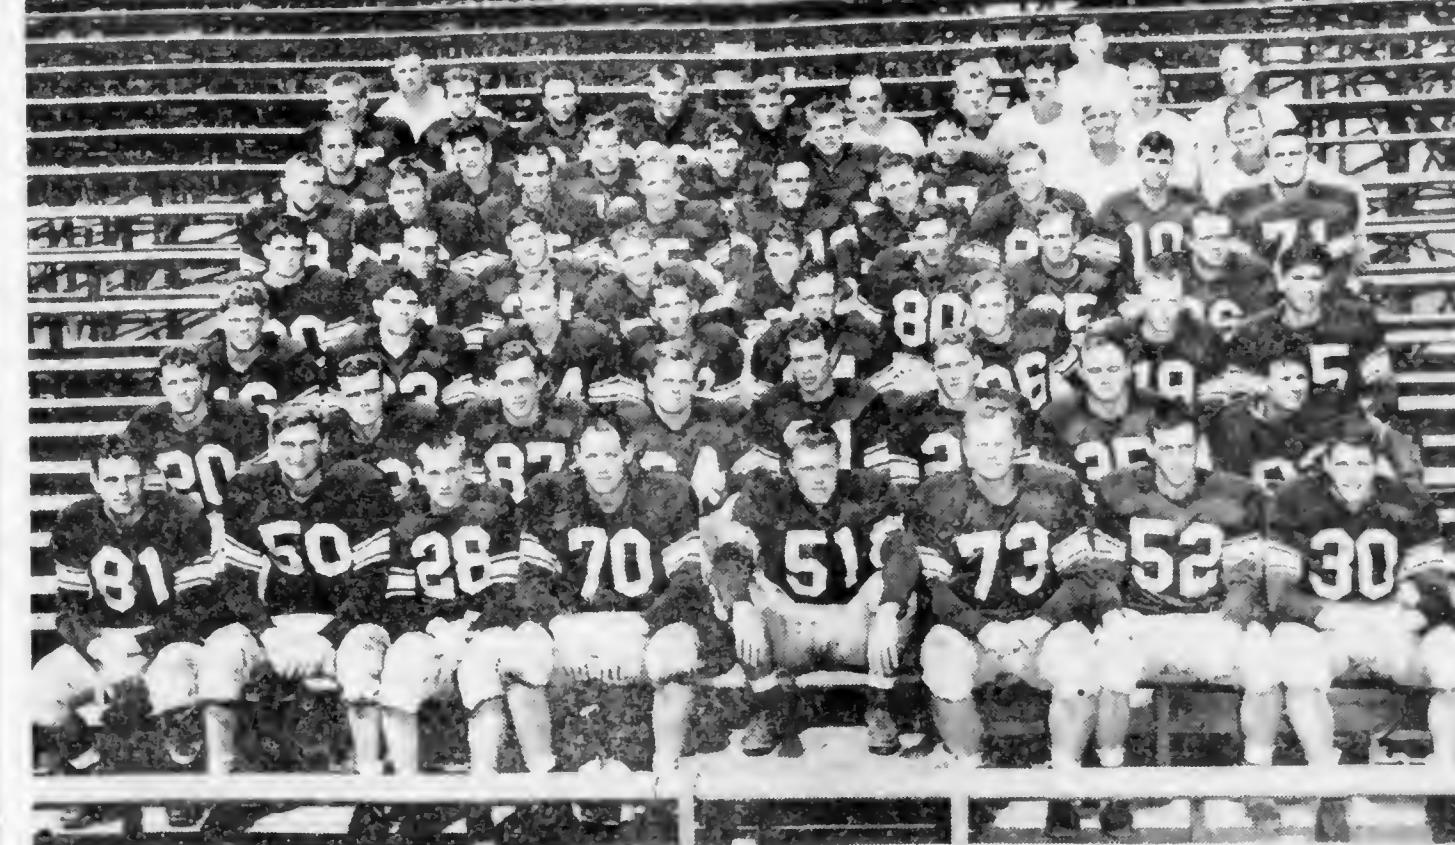

Finals of the intramural volleyball tournament were scheduled for Thursday in Alumni Gym at 8 p.m. with the semi-finals to be played at 7 p.m. this same evening.

In tourney competition held through Tuesday night, two teams had won their way into the semi-final round while the lower bracket of the semi-finals was to be completed in games played Wednesday night.

In first-round tournament play, six teams were dropped via the single elimination route. The Yellow Jackets defeated PKT 2-0, the Trailers won over ASP 2-1, PKA stopped AGH 2-0, SN won over ASME 2-0, SPE defeated KS 2-0, and ATO defeated LXA 2-1.

In the upper bracket of the quarter-finals, PSK defeated the Yellow Jackets 2-0 and PKA won over the Trailers 2-0 to gain the right to meet in the upper bracket of the semi-finals.

SPE was scheduled to meet SPE and ATO to battle SAE in the final two games of the quarter-finals with the two winners to meet Thurs-

Vols Upset UK Cats, 6-0

By Earl Conn

Kentucky has a bowl bid now, meeting Santa Clara in the Orange Bowl, but things weren't so joyous in Lexington two weeks ago when the Tennessee Volunteers, under Gen. Bob Neyland, came into town to score a 6-0 upset win over the Wildcats.

Kentucky had been primed for this one, but so were the Vols, and Neyland maintained his perfect record of never having been defeated by a Kentucky team since he took over the reins at UT in 1923.

The Vols in winning 6-0 became the first SEC team to score on the Wildcats this season, and consequently the first team to hand the Cats a league defeat. Kentucky wound up its SEC year with a four and one record.

Tennessee scored the lone touchdown of the contest in the first quarter when Gordon Polofsky, Vol fullback, plunged over from the one-yard line.

After End J. W. Sherill intercepted a pass and returned the ball to the Kentucky 35-yard line, Hank Launderella, the brilliant tailback of the Vols, set up the winning touchdown when he passed to the Kentucky 23, and then Sizemore raced around the left side of the line to the Kentucky 16. On this play a personal foul was called against Kentucky to put the ball on the Wildcat's one-yard stripe. From there Polofsky dove over for the tally.

Kentucky's offensive power never did come through during the afternoon. Only once in the fourth quarter did the Cats drive within scoring distance. However, an intercepted pass quickly ended this past results:

JOHN NETOSKIE

Player Of Week

(Miami Game)

John Netoskie

It was midway in the fourth quarter and Netoskie was leading the University of Miami, 14-6, in the battle for the Orange Bowl bid.

A Wildcat fullback rammed the center of the Hurricane line and fumbled. UM's big tackle, Harold Allen, recovered and the 42,000 Floridians went wild. Here was a chance to score and move within one point of the favored Kentucky eleven.

Whitey Campbell, UM star back, tried right end but was tossed back for a three-yard loss. Little Jack Hackett, Hurricane quarterback, tried a pass to Fidler but Dick Martin broke it up.

With the ball on UK's 16, third down and 13 yards to go for a first down, Hackett, who had passed for UM's first touchdown early in the game, decided to try another aerial.

He faded back, spotted End Tom Jelly racing down the right side and then let go with the pigskin.

The pass was short and Left End John Netoskie immediately saw the possibilities. He took three steps back, reached high in the air, bobbed the ball in his hands for two or three agonizing seconds, finally got a firm grip, and took off down the far sideline right past the surprised Miami students.

Only one Miami player had a good chance at the flying Kentuckian. But he was pushed out of the way by one of the two Wildcats who ran interference for the guy with the big white "86" on his dark blue shift. It was good for 30 yards and another score.

As Netoskie crossed the goal, the typewriter tickers high up in the Orange Bowl Stadium yelled "Who is he? Who is that No. 86?"

Few knew it was John Netoskie, and even fewer could spell his name correctly.

But Netoskie scored perhaps the most valuable touchdown ever made by a Kentucky player. For this run clinched the Orange Bowl nomination, worth $25,000 to each of the participating teams, by giving Kentucky its third and final touchdown.

Bradbury Wins Turkey Run

By Bill Allen

Overcoming a 36-second handicap, Jim Bradbury, member of the Moonbeam team, easily won the University of Kentucky's first annual cross country Turkey Run. The run was held Saturday, November 19, at 11 a.m.

The Moonbeam team placed the first five men with the lowest number of points across the finish line to win the team trophy of a gold cup. The second team to finish with the next lowest number of points and also winning a gold cup was the SAE frat. The winning team also received 10 points toward the participation trophy while the second team received 5 points.

The winners of the individual awards were as follows: Jim Bradbury received a large turkey, a medal, and 5 points toward the year's participation trophy; second was R. Griffith who was handicapped 45 seconds, received a goose, a medal, and 3 points toward the year's participation trophy; Wallace, third, handicapped 24 seconds, received a duck and medal; Nachand, fourth, handicapped 36 seconds, received a chicken and medal; Price fifth, handicapped 45 seconds, received a pigeon and medal. The individual award for the last man to finish was a goose egg and medal. This was won by W. E. Wardman, member of SAE team, handicapped from lack of wind. Bradbury, Griffith, Nachand, and Price were all members of the Moonbeam team while Wallace was a member of the Sigma Nu team. Carr was the fifth man to finish for the winning team.

This is the first even of its kind held at the University.

There were five teams of five men or more represented in the contest. The teams that participated were Phi Sigma Kappa, the Moonbeams, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Phi Delta Theta, and Alpha Tau Omega.

Frosh Cagers Split 1st Games

Kentucky's Kittens dropped their first game since 1947, when the Kentucky Wesleyan frosh nipped them, 58-55, last Monday night at Winchester, but they got back on the Victory Trail at Georgetown the following evening when they romped over the Baby Tigers of Georgetown College, 79-51.

Inability to hit free throws cost the yearlings the Wesleyan game. They converted only 15 of 26 from the charity line, while the Panthers were cashing in 24 of 33 tries.

They improved somewhat in the second game by hitting 25 gratis tosses, while Georgetown was getting 21 free ones.

The Cats outscored their opponents from the field in both contests—20 goals to 17 in the Wesleyan game, and 27 to 15 in the Georgetown game.

Dwight Price led the scoring for Coach Harry Lancaster's crew in both games. He poured in 21 points against Georgetown, and 12 in the Wesleyan game. Right behind Price was Lindle Castle, who netted 11 points in the Wesleyan contest, beating their opponents to 53.

Four foes were held scoreless—LSU, Mississippi, Georgia, and the Citadel. The only SEC team to score on the Big Blue was Tennessee, and that touchdown cost them the SEC title.

Netoskie is one of the 26 sophomores on the Kentucky roster. With the Cats losing Odilivak, Claiborne, and the Charley Bentley via graduation, John might be playing considerable ball next season, especially on the defense.

For his timely 80-yard touch-down run which helped to give Kentucky a 15-point win over Miami and ultimately a bid to the Orange Bowl game, The Kernel nominates John Netoskie as Player of the Week.

Kentucky scored 45 touchdowns, converted 32 extra point attempts, and scored a safety to amass 304 points this season, while holding their opponents to 53.

For his timely 80-yard touch-down run which helped to give Kentucky a 15-point win over Miami and ultimately a bid to the Orange Bowl game, The Kernel nominates John Netoskie as Player of the Week.

Kentucky scored 45 touchdowns, converted 32 extra point attempts, and scored a safety to amass 304 points this season, while holding their opponents to 53.

Dwight Price led the scoring for Coach Harry Lancaster's crew in both games. He poured in 21 points against Georgetown, and 12 in the Wesleyan game. Right behind Price was Lindle Castle, who netted 11 points in the Wesleyan contest, beating their opponents to 53.

Four foes were held scoreless—LSU, Mississippi, Georgia, and the Citadel. The only SEC team to score on the Big Blue was Tennessee, and that touchdown cost them the SEC title.

Netoskie is one of the 26 sophomores on the Kentucky roster. With the Cats losing Odilivak, Claiborne, and the Charley Bentley via graduation, John might be playing considerable ball next season, especially on the defense.

Sports Review

— By Tom Diskin, Sports Editor —

Congratulations are in order for the Kentucky Wildcat football team, Head Coach Paul Bryant, and his assistant coaches for the successful regular season, which was concluded with a 21-6 victory of the University of Miami Hurricanes last Friday night down in the Sunshine State.

Receiving a bid to the 16th annual Orange Bowl game is undoubtedly the greatest thing in the 68-year history of UK football. It is a definite indication that at long last Kentucky has "arrived" on the collegiate football scene.

The future looks bright. Coach Bryant is considered one of the nation's best grid tutors and has plenty of talented footballers here which is almost certain to result in Kentucky's remaining in the upper bracket of America's top football teams.

The nine-win-and-two-loss record by the Big Blue this season is the best in 40 long, and sometimes bitter, years of gridiron competition. Just five seasons ago, the Cats' best effort was a two-win-and-eight-loss mark.

Now, in the final Associated Press poll, Kentucky finished as the No. 11 team in the country. According to this rating, which is considered the most prominent of all, the Cats are the second best football eleven in the entire South, finishing just two positions behind LSU.

Santa Clara, our opponent in the Orange Bowl on Monday, Jan. 2, was listed in the No. 15 spot.

Kentucky's 21-6 win over Miami was much more convincing than the final score indicates. The Cats rolled up 25 first downs (to U.M.'s nine) and 274 yards in rushing to the opponent's 62.

After the game, Miami's head football coach, Andy Gustafson, said that "this Kentucky team is the best we've played since I came down here." Either stout and assistant coach for Miami told us that Bryant's boys were big and tough and he was only too right: I hope now we can snap back for our game with Maryland next Friday. You know your team took a lot out of us physically. Now we got another rough game coming up."

Coach Bryant made a big hit with the Miami sportswriters, when, immediately after leaving the dressing room with a vote of acceptance by the Kentucky football team for a bowl bid, he stopped to answer many questions fired at him by the writers with the Orange Bowl selection committee, just a few yards away, waiting to confer with him.

When one of the Kentucky officials reminded the Bear about this, he calmly replied "I've been waiting two weeks" and continued to give his views of the Miami game.

Incidentally, Bryant and his team are very popular down in the Magic City and this fact might pay off again in future years. The Orange Bowl will soon be the third largest in the nation. Plans are being made to eventually expand the stadium from 64,000 to over 75,000, which will then top the capacity in the Cotton Bowl.

One of the unsung players for UK this season has been Halfback Dick Martin, who is generally used on defense. We heard several comments from the coaches and sportswriters on his play last Friday. His tackling at times bordered on the savage side. The 180-pound junior from Chicago looked very impressive on returning a Miami kickoff early in the game.

When one of the sportswriters asked Bryant about Martin Saturday after the game, The Bear referred to him as "Oil Blood and Guts."

Bobby Brooks continued his perfect extra-point kicking. He made three straight against the Hurricanes to run his strike for the season to 17 in a row. At the beginning of the season, Brooks' place kicking was somewhat hampered by a bad knee.

Player Of Week

(TENNESSEE GAME)

Bob Gain

Hats off to All Conference Tackle Bob Gain! The Kernel staff joins a host of Southern sports writers in acclaiming Big Bob, SEC Player of the Week for his outstanding play in the Tennessee scrap two Saturday's ago.

He played brilliantly throughout the entire game, twice plowing through to make a Vol ten yards behind scrumline, just when Tennessee was knocking on Kentucky's door, ready to come in.

These two plays alone were enough to bring cheers from disheartened Kentucky rooters, but it was his play all the way through, his hard tackling, sure blocking, and constant aggressiveness that won him the award over all other linemen.

Not only did the Wildcat stalwart block Tennessee plays over the left side of the line, but when given the signal by Captain Harry Ullinski, he shifted to the right side, to stop expected runs through that side. Captain Ullinski juggled the big man to the right spot the majority of the game, for almost every line plunge

The University officials can give that oft-mentioned term around here, "school spirit," a healthy boost by extending the Christmas holiday vacation two days, to Jan. 5, because of the Orange Bowl game, which will be played the day after New Year's Day.

Students going to the game in Miami will have a very difficult time making it back to Lexington for their classes on Jan. 3—unless they fly by plane. And even then good connections must be made if traveling by commercial airline.

Some plan should be worked out as soon as possible, since all the tickets allocated to Kentucky must be returned by Dec. 10.

It is not unusual for schools to give off the entire week following their team's appearance in a major bowl. Perhaps a plan could be worked out wherein just the students making the trip could be excused until Jan. 5. The best plan would be to dismiss all classes until at least Jan. 5.

Unfortunately, President Donovan was out of town this week and could not be reached Tuesday or Wednesday in Houston for an official announcement in regards to this.

Time is running out. Some plan should be established immediately for excusing students for the Florida

Dale Barnstable was elected this week as captain of the 1949-50 Kentucky basketball team. Barney is very popular with his teammates and should make a worthy successor to last season's team leader, Alex Groza.

Barnstable, a senior from Antioch, Ill., lettered in each of his three previous years with the Cat cagers.

Last season he played both forward and guard.

Indiana Central's basketball coach, Angus Nicolson, must be a pretty busy fellow around that institution. For he also serves as the athletic director, head football, baseball and track coach.

For the benefit of students desiring to see the Indianapolis Olympians (featuring the ex-Wildcat stars) play during the Christmas holidays, we list their home games, which are played in Butler Uni-

Orange Bowl Ticket Sale Starts Monday, Dec. 5th

Students of the University will have top priority on purchasing tickets starting Monday, Dec. 5, at 8:30 a.m.

According to the athletic office, the UK students will be allocated 2,000 ducats at $6 each. Each applicant will be limited to two tickets, which are to be sold at the University Ticket Office located in Alumni Gym.

Students are requested to bring their activity ticket books with them when they purchase the pasteboards to certify that they are enrolled in school here.

Sale of the ducats will close on Dec. 10th.

In Class B priority will be the holders of season football tickets for 1949. In Class C are the paidup members of the Alumni Association. A total of 3,000 tickets will be sold to these two groups.

Then if any are left, the public sale of the Orange Bowl ducats will start Dec. 8, 1949.

Students are requested not to mail in applications. This will save them the cost of handling and mailing. For all others, an extra charge of 50 cents is made for either one or two tickets for handling and mailing. Alumni members and season ticket holders should mail their applications to: U. of Kentucky Athletic Association, Lexington, and mark envelope "Orange Bowl Tickets".

team will be aggressive Don Stevenson and high scoring Woody McBride at guards, Harley Griffith will be in the pivot for the third straight year. Sophomore Bill Brown, a 6'4" lefthander, and Dwight Swails, leading scorer last season, will be the forwards.

Referees Frenchy DeMoisey and Max Macon, a former major league baseball pitcher, will throw the ball up at 8 o'clock to start off the season for the Wildcats.

Bill Leskovar carried the ball more than any other Kentucky player this season. He toted the pigskin 130 times, and gained 639 yards for a 4.9 average.

Applications Now Accepted For DePaul Game Tickets

Student desiring tickets to the Kentucky - DePaul basketball game at Louisville on Dec. 21, Wednesday, are requested to fill out a regular application at the University's ticket office in Alumni gym between now and Dec. 10 (Saturday).

Each individual will be limited to two tickets. The price is $2.50 for side-seats and $2 for end zone seats.

For those desiring to mail in applications, the address is Ticket Manager, U. of Ky. Athletic Association, Lexington. A charge of 35 cents will be made for the mailing fee.

In the event that all tickets are not taken during the above stated period (Dec. 1-10) those remaining will be placed on sale three days prior to the game: one-half in Alumni Gym and one-half at the Armory in Louisville, site of the game.

Only one team scored more than one touchdown against the Cats — Southern Methodist—who racked up three.
